

Loggerheads are the most common of six sea turtle species which nest on Florida beaches. This huge reptile may weigh up to 350 pounds. Although its heavy jaws are perfect for crushing shellfish, loggerheads also eat jellyfish, shrimp and water plants.